THE EVE OF DISRUPTION
CABINET DISSENSIONS EXTENDING TO OTHER CHANNELS.

The Radical Ministers Opposed to the Campaign Plan Formulated by the Whigs.
Vessel Blown Up—The Courts—A New Planet—Foreign News.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., June 8.—A terrible explosion occurred in her majesty's crown coal monitor inflexible, lying in the harbor here. Gas generated in one of the coal bunkers, and becoming ignited exploded with terrific force, badly damaging the vessel and injuring twelve persons, some of it feared fatally.

On the Verge.
LONDON, June 8.—No progress has been made during the past week in allaying the dissensions in the British cabinet. The government remains on the verge of disruption. Mr. Chamberlain, ambitious to become an English premier, and Sir Charles Dilke, in native grandeur, still stubbornly refuse to be sent to Mr. Gladstone's announced policy of renewing the Irish Crimes act. It is true that the "grand old man" retreated from his original position on this question far enough to admit that the government now mean only to renew the bill modified; but the rebels in the cabinet insist that there exist no reason or cause to propose of any reason for renewal in any form. With neither Mr. Chamberlain nor Sir Charles Dilke have personally stated, in public terms, that they will remain in the cabinet if the premier persists in his renewal policy, yet it is generally understood that both have actually threatened to resign. It is not believed that the modified policy announced by the prime minister has in any way allayed the threat.

The quarrel in the cabinet has, in fact, extended to other matters. The Radical ministers are just as much opposed to the plan of electoral campaign formulated for the coming election by the Whig members as they are to the renewal of the Irish Crimes act. The number of ministerial rebels on this point is larger even than that arrayed against renewal. Mr. Chamberlain, chair of the board of trade, Sir Charles Dilke, president of the local government board, Mr. G. O. Trevelyan, John Bright's successor in the chairmanship of the Duchy of Lancaster, and Mr. G. Stanley-Leveson, successor to the great Parnell as postmaster general, all insist on a radical platform.

These gentlemen agree that the principle plank in the Liberal platform should be, first, a reform in the constitution of the house of lords by reducing the number of hereditary peers and increasing the number of life titles; second, a reform of the law of entail which will work towards a division rather than a concentration of land titles; third, general reform in the land laws of Great Britain to the end that the number of holdings in the land may be increased and that land be more easily obtained; fourth, for Ireland the widest measure of self government, consistent with the unity of the British empire; fifth, public demonstration of education on the principles accepted by the Irish party.

The Whig faction in the cabinet refuses to adopt any of these five principle planks in the platform of the Liberal party, and is consequently making the party enter the canvass weak from cohesion. On this account it is more than probable that Mr. Gladstone will be induced to remain in politics and power for the purpose of personally conducting the campaign for his party. The Liberals have no other man competent to hold the reins.

Gen. Walsley is engaged in the preparation of an official report on the charges preferred against Gen. Graham, commander of the Sinking-Berter expedition, and Gen. McNeil, commander of the advance force of the expedition, for neglect of duty and incompetency in the conduct of the campaign. If the report be unfavorable, both generals will be subjected to a special inquiry by a military commission.

Adams vs. Coleridge.
LONDON, June 8.—It is now said that Mr. Adams, the libellant in the case of Adams vs. Coleridge, in which he seeks to recover damages for alleged slander, has agreed to settle for a judgment unless the compromise negotiations now going on, fail.

Anxious for News.
PARIS, June 8.—There is no confirmation of the reported loss of the French gunboat Benoit, which was reported to have been wrecked on the coast of the Azores. The vessel was used as a despatch boat, and had a crew of 150 men. Definite news is anxiously awaited.

A New Planet.
VIENNA, June 8.—Dr. Pollak has discovered a new planet 5,322 days Greenwich mean time, right ascension 16 h. 16 m. 30 sec., declination south 10 h. 32 m., 35 sec., within magnitude.

Cholera spreading.
LONDON, June 8.—Cholera has made its appearance among the laborers on the Quetta railway and at Kinnaird, the depot commercial camp.

BASE BALL MATTERS.
An Important Meeting in Philadelphia.
It is decidedly Signified.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The American association of base ball managers held an important meeting at the Grand hotel here. It was so amended as to wipe out all restrictions on the players, as far as the underhand delivery is concerned. This permits high-arm throwing, but does not change the ball rule, which remains the same as drafted at the spring meeting.
Another important change was made in Rule 45, which does away with the four bound catch. Rule 43 was amended so as to make the home club the sole judge as to whether the ground is in fit condition to play upon after rain. A motion was made to re-instate Weaver of Louisville, Glasgow, of St. Louis, and Bradley of the Athletics, the players who jumped the reserve rule last season.
This caused a long discussion. Amendments were offered to include Mulhan, who is under suspension for year, and Dave Brown, who recently obtained a verdict of $500 against the St. Louis club for unjust expulsion. So much feeling was developed that those in favor of the motion saw that it could not obtain the necessary two-third vote, and it was withdrawn.

"It is a question of sympathy with us," said Mr. Byrne, of Brooklyn, "is a question of consistency in a question of justice. We do not propose to recognize contract or reserve jumpers of any kind, but we do propose to stand by our action at the Pittsburg meeting."

The action of the meeting was a general surprise in base ball circles. Knight was known to be in favor of reinstating the reserve jumpers, and the public was led to believe that the association would take his view of the case. Mr. Byrne states that the American association intends to stand by the action taken at Pittsburg, and that such a stand can mean nothing but war with the National League. Mr. Barnie, of Baltimore, is quoted as in favor of a fight, and the local managers seem to lean that way. The general feeling seems to be in favor of delaying the fight until after the joint meeting of the conference committee in August.

NIPPED IN THE BUD.
A Mercantile Fire Alarm and the Incendiaries.

CHICAGO, June 8.—There was a mercantile alarm of fire from the Mercantile block, 118 La Salle street. The insurance patrol discovered flames in the rear of the basement of the place and back of a cigar store. The materials on fire were a lot of shavings and rubbish, and was about two feet distant from a barrel of kerosene. It was at once apparent that the blaze was a case of arson, and a thorough examination of the premises was instituted. On retracing the steps to the place of the fire, the door was found locked. This, at that hour, and with no one in the store, was suspicious. The door was quickly burst open and a man found crouching in the corner. He was hauled out, and gave his name as Oliver Peterson, a Swede forty years of age.

Some weeks ago there was a mercantile alarm from the same number on La Salle street and on reading the fire director's report found a similar blaze and of like material. At the same time a man was also seen running out of the building and the supposition now is that he was probably Peterson, who is now locked up at the Harrison Street station.

SOCIALISTIC PICNIC.
"Down With the Throne, the Altar and the Moneybags."

CHICAGO, June 9.—The Central Labor union which is composed of the several organizations of Socialistic precincts had a picnic at Ogden Grove. A procession was formed on Market square in the morning and, after marching through the principal streets, went to the grove. In the procession was an unusually large number of young men, especially among the Americans. On numerous red flags and banners were inscribed such characteristic mottoes as "Down with the Throne, the Altar and the Moneybags." Twenty-two red flags and a solitary Union States flag were carried.

At the picnic were present, besides the Socialists, many Germans and Irish. Schwab made speeches. Fielden said that if the people would organize and resist to capitalists they might have a picnic all the time. In their fight they must employ the little, insidious missiles that would destroy the palaces of their masters. About two thousand people were present and listened to the inflammatory harangues.

CINCINNATI AHEAD.
Carrying Off the Honors for School Drawing.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—The efficient superintendent of drawing of the public schools of this city is the author of the system now being exhibited in the school drawing exhibition at the Centennial. The system was devised by Christina Sullivan and her corps of noble workers, a fine display of the work of the pupils of the Cincinnati public schools. It is created such grand attention that the state of Louisiana has adopted the system.

NEW ORLEANS HAS JUST BEEN RECEIVED AND EXPLAINS ITSELF.

"EXPOSITION GROUNDS."
NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—The city of New Orleans is going to be the scene of a great fair. The fair is to be held at the Exposition grounds, and the city is to be the scene of a great fair. The fair is to be held at the Exposition grounds, and the city is to be the scene of a great fair.

Railroad Reading.

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 8.—As the regular excursion train between this city and Baton Rouge was returning it ran into an open switch ten miles above the city. The train consisted of seven coaches, all crowded. Each coach left the track and the engine and four of them were overturned. Charles Jones, the fireman, was killed; Engineer Frank Ferguson was dangerously and seriously injured; W. H. Seymour, passenger, had his leg broken, and twenty other passengers received more or less injuries. The wounded were brought to the city on a road train.

A New Railroad.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Among railroad enterprises commenced this week is that of the New England and Southern company, whose engineers are locating a route from the Connecticut state line to St. John, New York. The road will greatly lessen the distance between New England and the coal fields of Pennsylvania. It is expected the road will receive state aid as the result of the interest of business men throughout the state.

Seeing the Signs.

NEW YORK, June 8.—David Quinn, while showing the sights of the city to some sailors, was struck by a horse and thrown to the ground. He was held without bail to answer Mr. Fitzpatrick, one of his friends, was also held.

Suffolk in Flames.

PETERSBURG, Va., June 8.—Intelligence has been received that the half of the town of Suffolk, on the Norfolk & Western railroad, has been destroyed by fire. The loss is very heavy.

THE STRIFE OF STOCK

WHAT IS DOING, WILL BE DONE, A GLANCES INTO THE FUTURE.

Stagnation in the Stock Exchanges With Gloomy Prospects Ahead—Seeking a Natural Level—Foreign Field.
A Look at Railroad Field.

NEW YORK, June 9.—There is not much exaggeration in saying that, had betting on the race tracks not been interfered with this summer the stock exchange might just as well have closed its doors. Most of the stock brokers and speculators are men of sporting proclivities, and they would certainly prefer spending their time on the tracks of Jerome Park, Sheepshead Bay or Long Branch to following it away on the floor of the stock exchange. There are some eleven hundred members in the stock board, and the total of Saturday's transactions did not reach fully seventy thousand shares, thus giving about sixty-five shares to every broker. Keeping in view that a considerable part of even this small amount of transactions consisted of matched or washing orders, the quotation naturally arises, how are the brokers to make their expenses, and how long can this state of affairs continue. The general business outlook is such that unless something extraordinary happens, the market will remain in a state of stagnation. It is not likely that a revival either in stock speculation or in stock investment, and as this something utterly unexpected cannot be foreseen, the market will remain in a state of stagnation. It is not likely that a revival either in stock speculation or in stock investment, and as this something utterly unexpected cannot be foreseen, the market will remain in a state of stagnation.

It thus became a question whether it would be reasonable on the part of the manipulators to put a stop to their supporting efforts and let the market go down as much as they would of their natural weight. A business-like level could thus be established upon the basis of further legislation and further liquidation of the market.

case a very cheerful view of financial affairs. They think that, while government bonds and stocks will advance, all the securities on which the interest or dividend may vary from time to time, are bound to go down.

In France their seems to be a general feeling of disappointment at the extensive reaction of dividends. The banks have no means recovered from the panic of 1881. Their vaults are filled with shaky securities of enterprises which were started during the boom, and which now cannot be sold at any price. In England things are quite as blue, and in addition to other misfortunes, the month of May was cold and wet. The consequence is that there was very little progress in the fields and the crops are backward. Wheat and barley have contracted a yellow tinge and in some of the poorer districts the wire worm has committed considerable ravages.

But in spite of all this agricultural depression, the price of grain seems to be on the rise. There was a late sale of the late Sir Curtis Compton's herd, which was one of the most famous in England. The high prices reached over a great extent of the Canadian and American buyers. Mr. Hope, of Canada, bought Dutchess of Rowant, a seven-year-old cow, for $2,000. Mr. Hill, an American, paid $1,050. Mr. Hill, an American, paid $2,885 for Dutchess of Leicester, a year younger.

PURCELL'S DEBTS.
The Late Archbishop's Case Will Not Be Touched by the Circuit Court.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—The large crowd of prominent attorneys and solicitors gathered here for the trial of the case of the late Archbishop Purcell's debts, which has extended all the proceedings in the circuit court to hear the court's determination upon a petition for the appointment of a receiver of the court's opinion consumed nearly an hour, at the end of which time the application for a new receiver was overruled.

The judges opined that their court was of about the same jurisdiction and rank as the district court, which decided the case before, and that they would not disturb the district court's decision, unless exceedingly good reasons appeared therefor. The reasons presented to the court appeared sufficient under the circumstances, and those pressing the motion were recommended to go to the supreme court, where the case could be much more rapidly and satisfactorily adjudicated.

Attorneys representing several interests took exception to the ruling, and will probably lose no time in taking the case to the supreme court.

A GUILTY CONSCIENCE.

A Farmer Hangs Himself After Being Detected in Wrongdoing.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 9.—Wm. Whiting, well-known farmer living in Collier, was found by his wife hanging dead to a tree in the yard. He had been in the habit of suspending from a beam in his barn. His only clothing was a shirt. John Henderson, superintendent of the farm, was unable to tell him that he was going away, to be gone late at night.

Indeed, he secreted himself in the house. At nightfall Whiting appeared at the house. Henderson seized Whiting and the two struggled desperately in the dark, but Whiting broke away and ran in the direction of Henderson's grave chaise, but lost sight of Whiting in an orchard. The latter was not again seen alive.

YOUTHFUL FELONS.

Two Boys Attempt to Wreck a Freight Train Almost Successfully.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., June 9.—A desperate attempt to wreck a south-bound train on the Menon road is what was coming around a curve at North Simonsville. A tie had been fastened by a stone across the track, and the engine was derailed. As it was not 11:30 a.m. very fast special damage was done. A dispatch first received stated that the train was derailed by a stone across the track, and that the engine was derailed. As it was not 11:30 a.m. very fast special damage was done.

The Festive Hopper.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Grasshopper ravages in California are much less serious than at first supposed. The damages to grain by them are mostly confined to the southern portion of the San Joaquin valley. The latest reports from there show that the first statements were greatly exaggerated. No correct estimates can yet be made of the damage to the crops. The ravages in the hop orchard of Sacramento has been partially damaged, but bearing vines have escaped. The pests will not remain long in this state. The trade winds which prevail at this season of the year, does not seem to agree with them. D. W. Cougle of the agricultural department at Washington, is here investigating the matter.

George W. Neff Bailed.

CINCINNATI, June 9.—George W. Neff, the insurance man who was indicted last week for the murder of a man, was bailed by Western Assurance company, was at the criminal court rooms in the jail yard promptly to give bail. Prosecutor Ralph Neff, his own attorney, was not present. A conference between Prosecutor Fugh and Judge Huston resulted in fixing the bail at $10,000. That is the first bail bond ever fixed, said Peter Rudolph Neff, as he fixed his signature. The accused asked for a speedy trial, which Prosecutor Neff promised. Everybody was in good humor, and the whole transaction had more the appearance of a civil than a criminal matter.

An Embarrassing Accountant.

CHICAGO, June 9.—It was recently discovered that C. C. Randall, of Alton, Ill., having charged the freight and express of the Chicago and Alton railway, was short in his accounts $11,000. He was brought here in his own car, having been arrested in his own car. He was brought here in his own car, having been arrested in his own car. He was brought here in his own car, having been arrested in his own car.

Striking Messengers.

CHICAGO, June 9.—All the messenger boys in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio Telegraph company went on a strike with a view of compelling the company to reinstate Dave Kelly, who was discharged for being drunk by the company. The boys surrounded the office and created so much confusion that the police were called.

REVELATIONS OF VERY IMPORTANT DEPARTMENT MATTERS.

Artificial Shad Hatching a Dire Failure
Two Healthy Fish Would Have Accomplished More—Army and Navy.
Mrs. Odium—National News.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Messrs. Kilbourn and Joy and Mrs. Cobb were informed that their services in the bureau of engraving and printing would not be needed after July 1. Mr. Kilbourn was a kind of purchasing agent for the bureau. The place was made expressly for him by Col. Barrill, the recently removed superintendent. Mr. Joy's and Mrs. Cobb's places were also made for them. Mrs. Cobb is a cousin of Col. Barrill. There will be a number of more discharges before the new fiscal year begins.

The Potomac fishermen have about closed the shad fisheries for the season. The sea has been a poor and unproductive one. It has been the poorest season they have ever had on the Potomac, notwithstanding the supposed benefit that the river received in consequence of the artificial hatching stations established along it by the United States fish commission. Experienced fishermen say that two shad left alone would have hatched more shad in a year than all the fish hatcheries of the fish commission combined. Indeed, they contend that the artificially hatched fish were eaten up by the other fish the moment they were put into the water and that they killed the fish that ate them.

Army Intel. gen.—
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Capt. James V. Reddy, ordnance department, has been appointed to act as inspector on certain camp and garrison equipage at the recruiting rendezvous, Pittsburg, Pa., reported as requiring the action of an inspector and for which Capt. Thomas E. Rose, sixteenth infantry recruiting, is unavailable.

Leave of absence for three months, to take effect when his services can be spared by his post command, has been granted. First Lieut. Daniel Corman, adjutant Twenty first infantry. The extension of leave of absence granted Capt. Saml. T. Hamilton, Second cavalry, in special order, May 1, 1885, has been further extended one month.

Under the provisions of the act of congress approved February 14, 1885, the following named enlisted men have by direction of the president upon their own application, been placed upon the retired list created by that act:—Ordnance Sergeant, Edward O'Brien, United States army; Private John Hartman, general service, United States army, First Class musician Joseph Ehen, ban 1, United States military academy; Musician Antonio Escudero, Company F, eleventh infantry.

Mrs. Odium's Mission.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—It is stated here that one of the purposes of the visits of the mother of Robert Emmet Odium to New York is to ascertain if she can bring suit against all the parties concerned in his fatal leap from the Brooklyn bridge. She also intends to have a criminal charge of embezzlement brought against the man who had charge of the collection raised to pay the funeral expenses of her son. She has been informed that a delegation of prize fighters, showmen, gamblers, swimmers, barkeepers and other sporting characters, raised by subscription over $500, which was to be for her benefit after the cost of the coffin and embalment bill was paid. Mrs. Odium has not received a single penny of this money. She is trying to find out who had the fund in charge. A New York sporting man who came here the day of the funeral of her son told her the money had been raised.

After Many Years.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—In 1866 a clerk named Edmund Hastings, in the New York postoffice embezzled five thousand dollars. During his fleeing trip to San Francisco, he formed a friendship with a telegraph operator, name unknown. Hastings confessed under the impulse of friendship and promise to reform if the secret was kept. A few years later he died at Nevada City, and the operator received the fortune by his will under instructions to forward the embezzled amount to the postoffice department. The operator has sent to the treasurer the full amount of the embezzlement with the statement, but no names.

Uncle Sam's Aid.
MONTVIDEJO, June 9.—The South American commission were cordially received by the gov. rment here. It has been asked to use its influence in favor of extending the American cable system to Uruguay. The commission will ask the United States government to exert its good influences to this end. The commission leave here for Rio de Janeiro on the 15th of June.

Naval Intelligence.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Dolphin will make her trial trip at sea next Thursday. The United States steamer Dispatch will go out with her.

The United States steamer Quinnebag arrived at Jaffa, Syria, May 11, en route to Port Said and Alexandria.

The Rebellion Casualties.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—Adj. Gen. Drum has just completed a list of casualties during the rebellion. The number of deaths was 359,490. Of these 25,448 occurred in the rebel prisons. The total number of troops engaged during the war was 2,774,405.

General Grant.
NEW YORK, June 9.—Although Gen. Grant suffered considerably during the night from rheumatic pains, he rested fairly well. There was no additional soreness in his throat, but Dr. Douglas is anxious that the Gen. be taken from the city at once.

Lewis Clark Dead.
KEY WEST, Fla., June 9.—Commander Lewis Clark, U. S. S. Alliance, has died of consumption.

In Honor of Logan.
WASHINGTON, June 9.—A salute of thirty-eight guns was fired in honor of John A. Logan.

Drowned in a Lake.
CHICAGO, June 9.—By the upsetting of a rowboat in the artificial lake in the South park, near Fifty-ninth street and College Grove avenue, Louis Lemaux, aged 17, and John Chen, aged 21, were drowned. They were rooking the boat for sport. The lake is so full of sea weed they could not swim. The bodies have not been recovered.
